Subject: Supply Disruption of Versadamp Materials

To our valued customers and distributors:

This notice is to provide you with notification that effective immediately and for the foreseeable future, Aearo will no longer be able to provide Versadamp materials in standard and custom parts. This notification applies to both current in house and future orders. This action is being taken because of unstable raw material supply issues.

In order to satisfy existing orders and new opportunities going forward, we are confident that we can identify and implement a suitable Aearo replacement material in your applications. Please contact your local Aearo representative to discuss next steps. Thank you for your patience.

Sincerely,

John Furth
