Subject: Solaris Product Line Update – Shell Size 1A Obsolescence

To: Distribution

Dear Customer –

Amphenol PCD is obsoleting four existing SOLARIS part numbers, and replacing with newer functional equivalents. This action is being taken to eliminate older revision parts with lesser functionality from our catalog. The new parts have additional features and functions that, in Amphenol PCD's opinion, provide a superior offering to our customers.

Please be advised that the new parts are not intermatable with the existing parts. Amphenol PCD will support the exist part in current applications, but will not offer for new applications (no new use).

Customers with existing stock will be contacted by their Amphenol PCD customer service representative, and issued an RMA. Outstanding orders will be cancelled or transferred to the new part number where mutually agreeable.
